Traditional 'Community Day Parade' & fair on hiatus

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

October in West Sacramento: the first chilly north wind returns to town, as to the traditional "Community Day Parade" and "Neighbors Fair."

Not this year, though – the wind may blow, but the parade and fair are taking the year off.

"It didn't look like we were going to get city (funds) for it, and with the economy the way it is, it just wasn't coming together as early as it should," said Mark Johannessen, a city council member and a past organizer of the events. "Basically, it's just a 'hiatus' thing."

Johannessen thinks the events' organizers will be able to bring back "a version of it in a more economical fashion" – perhaps a parade that shows off a revamped West Capitol Avenue in the fall of 2011. The parade and fair will probably return then, he said – although the associated art show may not.

"I don't want to say I'm 100 percent certain, but I think it's going to happen," said Johannessen.

Until then? Local bands will have another year to practice marching, cheerleading squads can fine-tune their routines, and dignitaries can practice their smiles and waves to be ready for next year.

City pool hosts 'Soggie Doggy Day at Rec Center pool as summer ends

On September 12 the West Sacramento Recreation Center hosted its first "Soggy Doggy Swim Day."

"Considering this was the first time the City had hosted an event of this nature, we honesty had no idea what to expect," said Sam Brinkhuis of the city aquatics program.

"The event was a huge success," he said by email. "As soon as our gates opened at 10:00 a.m. the dogs arrived and were ready to get wet. There was a steady flow of dogs all day long with each dog hanging out at the pool for about an hour. By the end of the day we had close to 60 dogs and twice as many owners participate throughout the course of the event."

Brinkhuis said the parks department hasn't decided whether to plan for future "soggy doggie" days at the city recreation center pool.

'Meet the candidates': Menke runs for WUSD

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

"A board member's job is to hire and fire superintendents, manage the superintendent, and set long-term direction," said Adam Menke.

Menke is a 35-year old engineer who designs bridges and other projects for Caltrans. He's married and is stepfather to two kids at Bridgeway Island Elementary and River City High, as well as father of a toddler not yet in school. A graduate of UCD, he has been in West Sacramento for about six years. He's now running for a seat on the local school board.

"I think (as a board member) you can set a direction and have ideas, and say 'we're going to be more open,'" said Menke. "Our kids will invariably do better if their parents are involved. As I walk around talking to people, I often hear comments like, 'I tried to go down to the school and they didn't want to hear from me.'"

Menke said he'd like to see Washington Unified School District encourage more parent-teacher communication to remedy that.

Does he have any particular criticisms of WUSD other than that, such as the way the district is currently implementing its necessary budget cuts?

"I haven't really had an issue with that," he answered. "I've read the budget. It took me a couple of days to read it. I asked some questions. I would have liked to see the cuts be a little more spread out. The classified employees got hit pretty hard, and textbooks and materials got hit pretty hard. I wish it could have been spread out to administration and other areas."

"A board member has to understand budgets and how to work in a budget," he said. With a grounding in math and familiarity with budgets, he believes he can do that.

How important are the results of standardized student tests?

"Test scores (in the district) have come up in the last year, and that's a good thing," Menke answered. "Most of our schools are still in 'program improvement,' which means they didn't come up as much as necessary. Test scores are important – they're a barometer of what we're doing as a whole."

Are enough kids graduating from high school in WUSD?

"Our community is very diverse," he said. "I would love for every child to go to college, and I would like to produce an education that provides an opportunity for every child to go to college. But the truth is that not every child will go to college. We have a working class society in our community, and we need to be able to train them in the trades – show them there are great jobs available, but you have to take and pass algebra."

Math, in fact is one of Menke's favorite things. He's a part-time math instructor at a community college.

"I love math," said Menke. "I would teach math for free."

As a board candidate, he isn't running "against" the current direction of the school board.

"I think they're doing okay," he said. "They're do

Transit hub opens at civic center

'Just like the airlines have hubs in Chicago or Atlanta or Denver, this transit center makes it possible to get anywhere from everywhere.'
-- Mayor Cabaldon

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Officials from West Sacramento, the Yolo County Transportation District and elsewhere celebrated the opening of the city's new "transit center" in the civic center area at West Capitol and Merkley Avenues last Thursday.

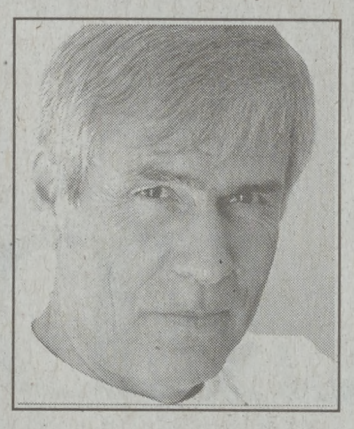
The transit center is meant to become a "hub" for Yolobus traffic, with two passenger shelters, drop-off stations, a half dozen bus berths, an outdoor plaza area and other landscaping. The center is meant to provide a pleasant place for Yolobus passengers to catch a bus or change bus lines, and if the city succeeds in building a planned streetcar line to Sacramento, the transit center will serve as a base and connection for that, too.

The center was built by the city with funding from the Federal Transit Administration. It is located at a growing corner – next to the almost-finished city community center and near a new city college branch, library branch, and nearly-new city hall.

"Just like the airlines have hubs in Chicago or Atlanta or Denver, this transit center makes it possible to get anywhere from everywhere," said Mayor Christopher Cabaldon in remarks to the crowd at the grand opening. "You get on one bus, come down to the transit center and hope on another bus and get where you want to go."

What are you superstitious about?

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

I usually try not to write columns about sports because not everyone is into them and I learned a long time ago that the key to writing a decent column is trying to give it a theme that most everyone can relate to. But I think I'm going to break that little rule-of-thumb this time around because as I write this, the San Francisco Giants' magic number to win their division is all the way down to one, and that is pretty exciting news for someone like me who has followed that team since they first arrived in the Bay Area all the way back in 1958.

I was only about 11-years old when the Giants left New York for San Francisco, but the fact that they were bringing Willie Mays along with them had me and all of my friends really excited. We knew he was one of the greatest players (if not the greatest) of his era and we could hardly wait to see him play in person, instead of just on TV now and then.

West Sacramento has long been a hotbed for young boys who love the sport of baseball and much of the credit for that goes to the fact that one of the first things the founding fathers of this fine community did was build a beautiful Little League park. And over the years, more really good baseball players than I can count learned their love for the game while playing Little League baseball in West Sacramento. Quite a few of them also went on to play professional baseball, including of course Steve Sax, who had a fabulous career with both the Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Yankees.

When my friends and I weren't actually at the Little League park playing in organized games, we were over at the playgrounds of local schools creating our own pickup games, lining up our bicycles to use as fences to try and hit homeruns over. And when we didn't feel like going to all that trouble, we would just make ourselves some sockballs (old socks wound up tight with rubber bands) that didn't go too far when you hit them, and that way we could play in our own backyards while making believe we were in Yankee Stadium or Wrigley Field or Fenway Park.

By the time I was a senior in high school, many of the same friends I had played Little League and backyard sockball with were now my teammates on the 1965 James Marshall championship baseball team. They included great ballplayers like Billy Nichols, Mike Crumley, John Domasky, Richie Yancey, Steve Snyder, Bernal Phipps, Tom Oliver and Jim Prizmich, and although we were all very different kinds of players, we did seem to have one thing in common – like almost everyone who has ever played the sport of baseball, we were superstitious — which finally brings me to my little story.

About two weeks ago, when the San Francisco Giants started making a serious run for the Western Division title, I started watching all their games on TV, and I noticed that every time they seemed to win a big, important game, I was wearing the very same outfit – a faded olive green T-shirt that my son-in-law had given me years ago because he no longer wanted it, and an old pair of blue jeans that had seen much better days. So, as the Giants kept closing ground on both the Colorado Rockies and the San Diego Padres, I of course became convinced that my wearing the very same outfit every time they played was somehow absolutely necessary for them to keep winning. And last night, my daughter, who had dropped by the house for a little visit, finally called me on it.

"Dad," she said as I was sitting in my rocking chair after having watched my Giants beat the Arizona Diamondbacks for the third straight time, "why is it that every time I see you nowadays you are always wearing that butt-ugly green T-shirt that Dallas (my son-in-law) was supposed to throw away?"

"It's a long story."

"Do you need a few bucks or something to go get yourself a new T-shirt?"

We were over at the playgrounds of local schools creating our own pickup games, lining up our bicycles to use as fences to try and hit home runs over. And when we didn't feel like going to all that trouble, we would just make ourselves some sockballs (old socks wound up tight with rubber bands) that didn't go too far when you hit them. . .

"No thanks," I said, returning her smile.

"Of all the T-shirts you own," said my daughter, "that would be the last one I would think you would fall in love with. I thought you hated that color from your Army days."

"I pretty much do."

"Then why are you always wearing it?

"Well, if you must know, it's because I'm trying to help the Giants win the pennant."

"What?"

"Look," I said, trying to make the explanation as short as humanly possible, "all I know is that every time I wear this stupid T-shirt and these jeans, the Giants somehow manage to win, and I don't want to jinx them, so I am going to keep on wearing this very same outfit as long as they keep winning."

"I didn't know you were superstitious?" said my daughter, smiling again.

"I'm not, except when it comes to baseball."

"Well, at least you're not one of those face-painters."

"Face-painters?"

"You know, one of those really crazy guys who loves his team so much that he paints his face the team colors when he goes to one of the games."

"Nope," I assured my daughter, "I would never do something as silly as that."

"And you don't think wearing the very same outfit every time the Giants play is pretty silly?"

"Absolutely not!"

"Just one more question, Dad."

"Sure."

"You are changing your underwear from time to time, aren't you?"

"Of course I've been changing my underwear!" I lied.

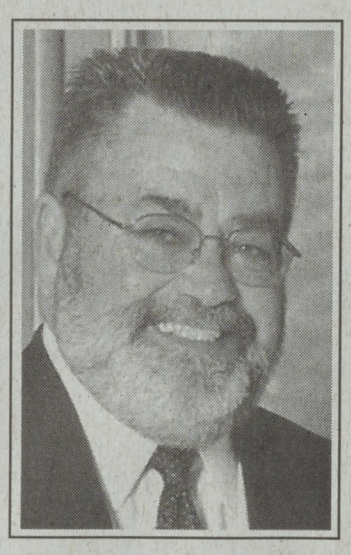
Obituaries

Robert Paul Greenhalgh



Robert Paul "Bob-O" Greenhalgh, a resident of West Sacramento for 30 years, lost his battle with cancer on September 23, 2010. He served as the first president of the West Sacramento Dolphins swim team and will be remembered for his extraordinary volunteerism in the community, portraying Santa Claus for the Moose Lodge, Storybook Cottage and other gatherings. He leaves behind his wife and best friend, Brenda; his children, Amy, George and Anin Greenhalgh, Jezikka Sullivan, Joey and Timmy Avalos, and Tish Palamidessi; his grandchildren, Ethan, Christian, and Gabriella; and numerous nieces, nephews and friends.

Bob-O loved traveling, telling jokes, and making new friends, as he never met a stranger. He adored his children, was devoted to his family, and was a father-figure to many in the community.

Funeral services will be held at the River Cities Funeral Chapel in West Sacramento on October 8, 2010 at 11 am. Donations can be made to the Kaiser Hospice Program or the West Sacramento Moose Lodge.

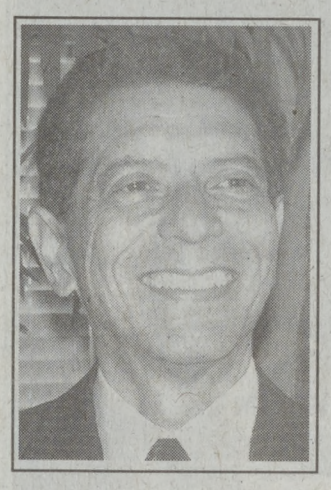
SPORTS INSIDER



By Richard Novoa

The San Francisco Giants finally put away the stubborn San Diego Padres last Sunday afternoon before a sold-out crowd of 42,882 rowdy orange towel waving fans to win their first National League West Division title and playoff berth since 2003.

The Giants, who reached the 3 million mark in attendance (3,037,443) for the ninth time in the ballpark's 11-year history and the first time since 2007, were in fourth place on July 4th and 7 ½ games out of first place. The Padres beat the Giants 12 out of 18 games this season but came up short on Sunday with Giants starter Jonathan Sanchez and the revamped bull-pen shutting out the Padres 3-0 and ending their season for good.

The Giants will host the first two games of the best of five wild-card series with the Atlanta Braves which start on Thursday, October 6th (6:37 p.m.-TBS) at AT&T Park with Giants ace Tim Lincecum (16-10) going against Derek Lowe (16-10) in Game 1. In game two on Friday night (6:37 p.m.-TBS); the Giants will throw Matt Cain (13-11) against the Braces ace Tim Hudson (17-9). Game three will move to Atlanta on Sunday TBD with Sanchez (13-9) throwing against Tommy Hansen (10-11). Games four and five, if necessary, are scheduled for Oct. 11th and 13th with times to be announced.

Major League Playoffs

In the other divisional series, the Cincinnati Reds will travel to Philadelphia to play the Phillies, who are the odds-on-favorite to win the National League title. In the American League the Tampa Rays knocked off the mighty Yankees to win the East sending the Bronx Bombers to playoffs as the Wild Card team to play in Minnesota while the Rays host the Texas Rangers in their best of five series.

So who's going to win the 2010 World Series? In the West the Phillies should win especially with their starting pitching but I truly believe that the hottest team pushing to make the playoffs at the end of the season can upset the favorite. It's called momentum – or Mojo.

In the National League, the Giants will win in four games while the Phillies take the Reds in four games too. In the American League, the Yankees will win in five games against the Twins and the Rays will meet up with the Bombers in the Division Championship after beating the Rangers in four games.

Kings Korner

The Sacramento Kings will break camp on Monday, October 4th in preparation for the team's preseason opener versus Phoenix on Tuesday, October 5th (7 pm PST) at ARCO Arena in the first of the Kings' seven-game preseason schedule.

The Kings second preseason game will be on Thursday against the L.A. Clippers (7 p.m.) followed by a bus trip to Oakland to play the Warriors on Sunday (7 p.m.) and again on Oct 12th. No TV coverage for any of these games. The Kings are currently selling single game tickets and four game packages including season passes for less than $17 per game. Call 888-91-KINGS or log-on to Kings.com/tickets for more information.

UFL Update

Before a second straight sellout crowd at Rosenblatt Stadium, the Omaha Nighthawks treated their fans to another thrilling win, rallying for the second straight game in the fourth quarter to beat the Sacramento Mountain Lions 20-17 on Saturday night.

Culpepper finished the game 23-of-37 for 212 yards and two touchdowns while ex-49ers quarterback Jeff Garcia finished 19-of-36 for 283 yards, two touchdowns and two interceptions. Mountain Lions' running back Cory Ross led the team with a game-high 33 rushing yards on 12 carries and 46 receiving yards on 7 receptions.

The win wasn't a sure thing, though, until Sacramento's kicker Fabrizio Scaccia missed wide right on a 55-yard field goal attempt with 1:46 left in the game. The Nighthawks ran out the clock and locked up the win to improve to 2-0 on the year, while the Lions dropped to 1-2. The Lions have a bye this week returning to action on at Hornet Field Friday, October 15th at against the Las Vegas Locomotives (8 p.m.).

NFL Week 5

The 49ers (0-4) head Coach Mike Singletary is probably on suicide watch after watching his Niners lose 16-14 on a last second field goal by Atlanta. The 49ers made a bunch of little mistakes from their quarterback and their defensive secondary that at the end, added up to huge loss. Their best move was finally firing their offensive coordinator but the offense still wasn't running on all cylinders.

Next up for the winless 49ers are the Eagles on the Sunday night game of the week (5:30 p.m.-NBC) which will have a tremendous TV audience especially without Michael Vick, who broke his ribs last Sunday.

Da Raiders (1-3) dropped another home game losing to the Houston Texans 31-24 before the smallest home game crowd of 32,218 in a non-strike season in almost 43 years. The game was blacked out locally and so will next Sunday's (1:15 p.m.) home game against San Diego.

Kahili Picks

Last weekend I was in Chicago and experience some computer problems resulting in my column missing the print deadline. I apologize to Steve at the News-Ledger and to our faithful newspaper subscribers.

Anyway, my dog King Kahili made his picks last week winning with his "College Lick of the Week" Oregon (-6) beating up Stanford and in the NFL, Kahili won with the Jets (-4 ½) in Buffalo, lost with the Bengals (-3 ½) in Cleveland, and the Ravens upset the Steelers (-1 ½) to bring his season total to the .500 mark at 9-9.

This week his "College Lick of the Week" is Norte Dame (-5 ½) at South Bend against the Pittsburgh Panthers. In the NFL, King Kahili likes the Colts (-9) running away from the Chiefs at home, the 49ers (-2) winning their first game against Philly, the Cowboys (-6) will corral the Titans and the Chargers (-5 ½) will light up the black hole at the Da Raiders.

Enjoy your day – see ya next week!

Raiders are for real

Info & photos by DE'ONNA JACK

River City scored the first points of the game on a 80 yard touchdown run by T.J. Soto. Vista Del Lago answered with a field goal, and went on to score two touchdowns while holding River City scoreless, taking a 17-7 lead.

The Raiders scored a touchdown of their own just before the half, making the score 17-14 at half-time.

River City was only ahead of Vista Del Lago by 3 points late in the game, the Raiders drove the ball downfield. Facing fourth down and two yards to go, Head Coach Arturo Bustamante faced a question: punt the ball and give Vista pretty decent field position, try to kick a field goal to tie, or go for the touchdown to win the game?

The Raiders took the gamble and stayed on offense. Uriah Clark ran on the fourth-down play for 53 yards, taking the ball all the way down to the 1- yard line; which set up a touchdown run by T.J. Soto. RCHS won, 40-30.

"I was impressed with how our team fought back from the 17-7 deficit," said Assistant RCHS Coach Baker. "Head Coach Art Bustamante's decision to go for it on fourth down, late in the game, was the key. He sent our team a message that we were playing to win."

River City now moves ahead with a 5-0 record and will face Liberty Ranch on Friday. JV start time 5pm and Varsity 7:15.

Earlier on Friday, the Raiders' junior varsity squad lost a heartbreaker, 30-29. The j.v.'s fought back from a deficit to within one point of victory.

RCHS SPORTS ACTION

River City High's boys soccer team defeated Liberty Ranch 2-0 last week, while the RCHS junior varsity fell, 4-1 (report courtesy of Pedro Ceja, RCHS journalism class).

On September 27, the girls varsity and j.v. volleyball squads dropped a match to Union Mine High School. The varsity score was 3-0, and the j.v.'s lost 2-0. Union Mine beat the RCHS freshmen 2-0 as well.

The freshmen volleyball team fared better on Oct. 4 with a 2-1 win at Vista Del Lago High School. But the Raider varsity lost 3-0, and junior varsity lost 2-0.

OPINION: Promoting breast-feeding

By Samantha Pfeiffer and Karen Farley

Tremendous strides have been made in supporting breastfeeding moms. This includes support throughout the perinatal period, which is critical to a mother's ability to initiate and maintain breastfeeding and reap the rewards that breastfeeding offers for both mother and baby.

The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends exclusive breastfeeding for the first six months of a baby's life, with continued breastfeeding at least through baby's first year and as long as desired by mother and baby. This recommendation is shared by every other major health organization, including the World Health Organization and the American Academy of Family Physicians.

A community's collective investment in helping mothers breastfeed their babies is a comparatively low-cost, low-tech strategy for improved health outcomes. The risks associated with formula feeding are well documented for both infant and maternal health. This includes higher rates of ear and upper respiratory infections for formula-fed infants, higher rates of chronic conditions such as allergies and diabetes in children that were not breastfed, and higher occurrences of breast and ovarian cancers in mothers that did not breastfeed. By working to increase breastfeeding initiation rates and duration, our community and society at large could experience significant health care cost reductions and improved health outcomes now and into the future.

Yolo County has a number of resources for supporting and encouraging breastfeeding. Sutter Davis and Woodland Memorial hospitals – both located in Yolo County – have achieved the Baby Friendly Hospital designation: Sutter Davis Hospital in 2008 and Woodland Memorial Hospital in 2010. To start off the program at Woodland Memorial Hospital, in 2008, First 5 Yolo funded $33,000 to develop and distribute baby friendly gift bags for new parents, to replace those they had previously distributed that were provided by the formula companies.

The Baby-Friendly Hospital Initiative (BFHI) is a global program sponsored by the World Health Organization (WHO) and the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) to encourage and recognize hospitals and birthing centers that offer an optimal level of care for infant feeding. As of September 15, 2010 only 99 hospitals and birth centers in the U.S. had achieved the Baby Friendly designation. Yolo County is fortunate to have this level of care and commitment to health available to its residents.

Additional support is available through health care providers and community organizations. Resources for low-income families include CommuniCare Health Centers as well as the Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) Supplemental Nutrition Program, both of which provide prenatal and post partum breastfeeding education by trained staff and individual consultations with an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant (IBCLC). At the Mother and Baby Source store in Davis, women can meet with an IBCLC individually and attend prenatal breastfeeding classes. La Leche League of Davis offers a monthly mother-to-mother support group in addition to telephone counseling with skilled La Leche League Leaders. The Breastfeeding Support Program for students, staff, and faculty of the University of California, Davis includes lactation sites throughout campus equipped with hospital-grade breast pumps, a monthly support group, and lactation consultations with an IBCLC on campus.

As a result of these collective efforts, Yolo County has relatively high rates for initiating breastfeeding. Once breastfeeding has been initiated, lactation accommodation in the workplace helps women continue to breastfeed. Required by California state law since 2002, and included in the recent Health Care Reform bill, lactation accommodation includes providing employees with a reasonable amount of break time and a private place that is not a restroom, to express milk.

By supporting breastfeeding employees, employers may see cost savings through improved employee retention, fewer sick days taken by employees with breastfed children, and lower health care costs. Lactation accommodation policies make it easier for women to return to work and continue to breastfeed. This increases employee satisfaction, loyalty and retention. In addition, parents of breastfed infants miss work less often than parents of formula-fed infants because breastfed infants and children tend to be sick less often. While this impacts staff productivity and attendance immediately, this also translates into reduced health care costs and lower medical insurance claims for employers. A small financial investment initially to implement a lactation accommodation policy can go far in preserving company investments in employees.

There are numerous resources available to employers to assist in planning and implementing a worksite lactation accommodation program. One such resource is The Business Case for Breastfeeding. Developed by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services in 2008, this comprehensive, free toolkit provides information and resources for employers and employees alike. Locally, the Community Breastfeeding Coalition of Yolo County is available to assist employers in planning their lactation accommodation program. Contact Samantha Pfeifer for more information at (530) 666-8446 or Samantha.pfeifer@yolocounty.org.

We can be proud of Yolo County. It is the first county in the United States to be 100 percent "Baby Friendly" as certified by the Baby Friendly Hospital Initiative USA.

Samantha Pfeifer is an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant (IBCLC). She is the chair of the Community Breastfeeding Coalition of Yolo County and the Breastfeeding Coordinator for the Yolo County WIC Program.

Karen Farley is a Registered Dietitian and International Board Certified Lactation Consultant (IBCLC). She works at the California WIC Association, which is a non profit organization that supports the work of the California WIC Program.

director, Ken Nicholson. The film is produced by Sacramento attorney Lisa McKee for Sacramento media company McNic Productions.

"The movie chronicles the misadventures of two second-rate Miami mobsters who hit the road on a cross-country trip to collect debts for their boss," he said in an email.

The role of "street soldier" Dante King is being played by River City native Christopher Holley, who had a principal role in both "Smokin' Aces" and "Smokin' Aces 2." He also played the part of Edward Norton's partner in the crime drama film "Pride And Glory."

"Dante's companion on the journey is mob accountant Perry O'Conner, played by another up-and-coming local actor, Dennis Glasco, said Nicholson. Veteran actor and acting coach Charlie Holliday has a featured role as a cranky Cajun who doesn't agree with Perry's math," said Nicholson.

Like Baton Rouge, the local port handles grain and rice, so its equipment and infrastructure are similar -- making the West Sacramento port a good double for the Louisiana port, he added. The film also uses locations in western Yolo County.

ing the best with what they have."

He is concerned about a recent decision to use government financing to build a large solar energy system at River City. Menke isn't convinced the project will "pencil out" and produce energy cost savings.

"I'm concerned that in a time of big budget cuts, we're going into a project that could cost us money," he said. "If it does make money, that would be a great thing."

One thing he'd like to promote as a board member is improved campus safety, he said.

"I've talked to a lot of teachers down there at our high school and a lot of kids say it's not as safe at our high school as it should be. Some parents are taking their kids to Christian Brothers or Delta (high schools) because of it. I think some of the concern is founded, but it's not as bad as they think. The biggest thing that hit our school was (last year's) food fight, when the principal got hurt. And students can say (inappropriate) things to staff and there are no repercussions. That shouldn't happen."

Adam Menke

As a board member, he'd like to see the school board "have a backbone so (staff) knows they are going to be supported" in discipline issues."

West Sacramento voters will vote to fill two seats on the Washington Unified school board on November 2. Menke's competition includes incumbent Sandra Vargas and fellow newcomer Heather Wright.

showcase for our community. In it's first effort the foundation is focused on saving the first threatened closure in our community, the swimming pool.

But it is hoped that in the future, if necessary, the AFWS can stave off diminished community services, termination of River City High School programs and an inability to include low income residents in our programs. Founding members want everyone in the community to know about the foundation, the October Pumpkin Run, a planned winter water polo tournament and spring sprint triathlon and relays.

Just by being aware of these events, community members can help the AFWS reach participants and sponsors and attract them to our events. Fund raising runs, tournaments and races will also draw participants from other communities, draw their dollars to our community and give our community a positive identity.

Community members who have a service that they want members of our community to know about are able to sponsor the Pumpkin Run and host a vendor booth at the finish line area. The AFWS hopes to draw over 300 runners to the inaugural event.

Details on the AFWS and Pumpkin Run can be viewed at www.aquaticsfoundation-ofwestsacramento.com.

Remember the flap over the salaries of public officials in the city of Bell, California?

Here's a quick recap:

Bell has a population of under 40,000 (it's a bit smaller than West Sacramento) and it's a working class community in Southern California. Earlier this year, it came out that the Bell city council had been giving its top employees – and itself – a series of obscene pay raises.

The Bell city manager had been bumped up to a base salary of nearly $800,000, which is almost four times what West Sacramento's well-tenured city manager makes. Most of the Bell city council members were raking in almost $100,000 per year for their part-time work. By contrast, in most similar cities serving on a city council is considered to be a part-time job, bringing in a stipend of under $5,000 per year. Bell's police chief was making over $450,000, which is well over what the city of L.A.'s chief earns.

The L.A. Times broke the story about the fiscal abuse in Bell. The state attorney general's office is now trying to get some of the money back from at least some of the overpaid officials.

"Audacity" and "greed" are terms that come to mind when talking about Bell.

But one of the first reactions over here at the News-Ledger was simple disbelief: there was simply no way the story could be entirely true, and no way a city government, operating under state open meeting laws, could have got away with such theft. Surely, if they had tried, someone would have blown the whistle. Someone would have made the phone call to the local newspaper or TV station. These looters could never have succeeded in voting in such raises.

Right?

Wrong. They did get away with it, for far too long.

The view from over here is that part of the reason that Bell's public officials were able to pad their pockets so well for so long is that there is very little truly local media in that city. There is no local newspaper.

Had there been a local paper, even a lazy or underfunded or struggling one, surely this whole thing would have been nipped in the bud much earlier. Even if the city's salary raises were well-hidden in bureaucratic maneuvers, they must have been known to a handful of people scattered through Bell city hall. A good "watchdog" newspaper would have picked up on that. And a less vigorous newspaper still would have probably tripped upon the news story.

Surely, at some point, some unhappy insider at city hall – perhaps just a disgruntled administrative assistant – would have picked up the phone and called the local paper. And that local paper simply would not have been able to pass up such a stunning news story.

But there isn't a local paper in Bell. And apparently, nobody else was watching the city bosses, either.

Demand better education

I always look forward to election time. I love seeing all the campaign signs. I saw one the other day that said "Better Schools Now" with an exclamation mark. I laughed to myself and thought how naïve. Anyone who has been around West Sacramento long enough knows our school district has been a mess for decades. We have been unable to attract and keep a qualified superintendent. Some of our school principals and teachers should not be in the education field. The last time I looked our school district was ranked 591 out of 768 in California, our state ranked 46th in the nation, and our country is ranked 21st in the world in education. Why do we put up with this?

Our school board sets policies based on recommendations from the superintendent. While it's important to have a school board, they really have little power to make the radical changes necessary to educate our children. Exercise your right to vote but don't expect too much. Eager candidates often become lap dogs to the superintendent. Get involved in your student's education. Make sure they do their homework and get them help if they struggle with a subject. Listen to your children if they tell you about a bad teacher and look into it. Don't be afraid to meet with the principal or teacher and demand a better education for your child. Form alliances with other parents and go in numbers to the district office. Send e-mails of praise when your student has a good teacher. Teacher unions make it impossible to get rid of bad teachers; this must change and until it does, the best you can hope for is a mediocre education for your child. What other career is protected for life after as little as two years of service?

Public schools made this country great and it can again if parents get involved and demand a better education for their children.

New aquatics foundation

To assist the City's Parks and Recreation Department and River City High School to offer year round access to our new West Sacramento Recreation Center's swimming pool and programs, WSRC members have formed the Aquatic Foundation of West Sacramento. Budget cuts are a fact of life almost everywhere. But it is particularly disconcerting when they threaten to close our Recreation Center facilities, which we built to keep our community healthy and vital. West Sacramento waited through years of anticipation to build and open the new recreation facility.

Millions of dollars were spent to build it...and now a vital part of it is threatened to be closed over just a few thousand dollars. The recreation center's intended scholarship funds, which were intended make our vital aquatics activity programs available to those who can't afford them, have all but dried up. And so the foundation was born. Mimicking fantastic efforts in other communities, the AFWS plans to offer West Sacramento signature fund raising events to keep our pool open, fund activity scholarships and pay for the facility's staff and equipment.

Kids need it. Seniors need it. Adults need it. AFWS inaugural events are focused on these goals, but our future plans are broad. City and School District budgets may get worse before they get better. The AFWS is just the foundation building block of an organization that is believed will grow to raise enough funds annually to keep the Recreation Center Open and all its exercise programs available to serve everyone in our community. The first AFWS event is the inaugural West Sacramento Pumpkin Run October 30th. The 10 K, 5 K, 5K Walk and 2 K Kids Candy Burner is designed to be a

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"How to Train Your Dragon" (PG) — The reason Dreamworks' animated films don't reach the same level of quality as Pixar's is that all too often, the humor is derived from lame pop-culture references rather than from the characters' personalities or their situation. In "How to Train Your Dragon," Dreamworks has finally gotten it right and made an animated family film that is funny and heartwarming, with the same timeless, classic feel we get when watching, say, "Toy Story" or "Monsters, Inc."

The film centers around a Viking boy named Hiccup who would rather tinker with his inventions than join his fellow Vikings in fighting the dragons that attack their village. One day Hiccup, using one of his inventions, accidentally brings down a young dragon. Instead of killing the beast, he befriends it and names it Toothless. Because humans and dragons are supposed to be mortal enemies, and this is a family film, it is mandatory that everyone must learn A Valuable Lesson About Friendship and Family.

I really liked this movie. The flying scenes are breathtaking, the voice acting by Jay Baruchel, Gerard Butler, America Ferrara and Craig Ferguson is well-done, and the film zips along at a jaunty pace. Check it out.

"The Hangover" (Extreme Edition) (R) — For cryin' out loud, this movie has more versions than "Blade Runner." This "Extreme Edition" is the third release of the film this year. What's different? Nothing. It's the same movie you saw in the theater, only this time it includes a 28-page book of racy photos from Stu's camera and the "missing wedding album," more outtakes and a gag reel and some other junk thrown in to separate rubes from their cash. Don't get me wrong, I thought the movie was funny, but this DVD release is nothing but a shameless grab for more cash.

"Christmas Classics Gift Set" (Unrated) — Four classic TV holiday favorites: "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," "Santa Claus Is Comin' to Town," "Frosty the Snowman" and "Frosty Returns" are bundled in this affordable three DVD set (also available on Blu-Ray).

DOG OF THE WEEK

"Jonah Hex" (PG-13) — Not only is "Jonah Hex" the worst movie of the year, but at 72 minutes, it's also the briefest (thankfully). Josh Brolin stars as the titular Hex, a cowboy with a mutilated face who's out to avenge the brutal murder of his family — until President Grant recruits him to hunt down John Malkovich, an evil dude lookin' to destroy the U.S. Capitol with a super weapon invented by

Josh Brolin

Eli Whitney. For a comic-book movie that's barely an hour long, you'd expect it to be wall-to-wall action. No dice. It's mostly grizzled dudes standing around talking.

Moments in time

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Oct. 15, 1917, Mata Hari, the archetype of the seductive female spy, is executed for espionage by a French firing squad at Vincennes outside of Paris. She first came to Paris in 1905 and found fame as a performer of exotic Asian-inspired dances, claiming to have been born in a sacred Indian temple. In reality, Mata Hari was born in a small town in northern Holland in 1876, and her real name was Margaretha Geertruida Zelle.

• On Oct. 11, 1925, novelist Elmore Leonard is born in New Orleans. His book "Hombre" (1961) was voted one of the best 25 Westerns of all time by the Western Writers of America. His first mystery, "The Big Bounce" (1969), was rejected by 84 publishers before it was published as an original paperback.

The Kitchen Diva

Make Meal Time Family Time

Coordinating food, family members and frantic schedules isn't easy. Every busy cook knows that pulling it all together at dinnertime is a challenge! One way to bond with your loved ones and save time is to make cooking dinner a family affair. It's best to involve the whole family with the planning, purchase and preparation of meals. There's little truth to the adage "there are too many cooks in the kitchen," especially when it's time to eat. Here are some sure-fire tips for ways you can plan ahead to make mealtime a fun, family time:

Find age-appropriate tasks for kids: Gathering ingredients, measuring, mixing or setting the table are wonderful ways to involve every member of the family with meal preparation.

Encourage family interaction: Planning the weekly menu and grocery shopping are tasks that the whole family can help with.

• Keep cooking basics on hand: Broadening the range of basic ingredients you have on hand widens the variety of what you can cook at a moment's notice.

Stock up on great "pantry basics": Varieties of canned beans, green and black olives, varieties of pasta and bottled sauces, boil-in-bag brown rice, ethnic spice rubs, prepared salsa and canned fruits such as pineapple, pears and peaches are great basic "go to" items for family meals.

Keep it simple: Simplicity is a main ingredient when cooking up family meals. Pull from the "pantry basics," then add your own twist to create a unique and flavorful dish.

Shop smarter: Breaking bulk purchases into smaller, more usable portions is a great way to efficiently make use of sale items. Estimate what you will use in the next few days and freeze the rest. This works especially well for large packages of meat, such as bulk-pack pork chops or tenderloins.

Use one-step flavor boosters: Canned tomatoes, bottled dressings, pre-packaged rubs, seasonings and dried herbs are easy ways to create flavorful new dishes using the same pantry and freezer staples.

This simple recipe for Apple-Pecan Pork Chops is a great way to involve the whole family in preparing dinner. The pork chops can be prepared by one person, while the rest of the family can assemble and measure ingredients, and open and drain the canned goods. Toss together a salad, and in less than 45 minutes the whole family can sit down to a delicious meal!

APPLE-PECAN PORK CHOPS

1 pound thin-cut pork chops
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 (16 ounce) can sliced apples, drained
1 (16 ounce) can sliced sweet potatoes, drained
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped pecans

1. Trim the fat from the pork chops. Heat the oil over medium-high heat in a large skillet. Add in the butter and heat until it sizzles. Reduce heat to medium. Sprinkle both sides of the pork with the poultry seasoning, salt and black pepper.

2. Arrange pork chops in the skillet. Cook for 2 minutes; turn chops over. Using a small bowl, mix together the apples, sweet potatoes, brown sugar, cinnamon and pecans. Spoon mixture over the pork. Cover the skillet and cook for 8 to 10 minutes more. Makes 4 servings.

The Sacramento River registeerd 4 feet 1 inch U. S. guage at the S. P. bridge yesterday.

The ilttle old shack on Second street, inhabited for years by Lee Lee, the Chinaman, was moved last Saturday to Riverbank by Percy Hart. The building was a remnant of a former glorw. When West Sacramento was doing its biggest boosting it was used to show the great growth of corn that could be grown in this section of Yolo County. Pictures were published showing the corn grew here to a height exceeding that of the ordinary house. Of late years Lee Lee, the Chinaman, used it as a place to dispose of dope, but since he was sent to jail last September the place has been vacant. It will be used in Riverbank as a temporary residence by Mike Morrison, or until he gets a better building constructed.

Last Wednesday Dan O'Connor was sent to jail in Woodland on a charge of vagrancy for a period of 150 days. Judge Bary could see no reason for any man being a vagrant in these busy times, and made the sentence heavy to give Dan time to come to his senses.

AUTO ACCIDENTS happen every day. Are you in a position to stand the loss if the car you drive meets with an accident? We can insure you against this loss or any other you may sustain. Edwin R. Pickett, General Insurance. 308 Farmers Bank Bldg., Sacramento Phone Main 518.

Last Tuesday night while viewing the returns in Sacramento Ellis Barry lost his automobile. On Wedneday morning the car was found west of the Yolo causeway where it had been driven by the thieves and where the gasoline supply gave out. It was returned intact without loss.

Election day was very quiet in Washington, so quiet in fact that even only a few came over from Sacramento out of force of habit. There were no rows and very little soliciting done around the polls.

Gypsies have again taken up camping grounds near the Sacramento Northern bridge and are there in such numbers that it seems hard to get around between the automobiles and wagons. Not only are gypsies camped there, but there are also a large number of other people of various nationalities. Constable Buckingham will make a clean up of this locality very soon.

The Fire Commissioners dance, which was to take place next Saturday night, has been postponed until Saturday evening, Nov. 20th. This dance is being given by the Fire Commissioners to aid in making final payments on the piano in the Town Hall. A large attendance is expected at the dance to help along the good cause.

A special meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association is to be held at the school building next Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. to make arrangements for a change in time of the regular meeting of the club. It is proposed that future meetings be held in the evening of some week day, so that ladies will not be taken away from their housework during afternoons. It is proposed also by the club to give periodical entertainments and a special committee has been named to make arrangements. This committee consists of Mrs. Conzetti, Mrs. P. A. Hart and Mrs. Belle Parkinson. The Parent-Teachers want to inject new life into the organization, hence the activity now shown.

Mrs. Fred Moser is seriously sick at her home where she is under the care of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Soule are at home again after an absence of about five weeks in San Francisco, San Jose and other southern points. Mrs. Soule's health improved wonderfully during her absence and she is again able to look after her household duties. They expect to remain home during the winter.

The tug boat "New Hope," owned by the Pankost Fish and Boat Co., had its trial trip this forenoon on the river after having a new engine installed. The trip was a success under the direction of Captain Earl Pankost.

It is understood that a new snag boat to replace the Seizer is being built by the government at Stockton and will be ready for launching any day. The boat is badly needed to remove many snags that are hindering navigation.

A great load of lumber was taken down stream to Rio Vista last Sunday to be used by the Federal Government in building two pile drivers that are necessary for government work. It will take several weeks to build these pile drivers.

William Woods, Jr., was given a birthday party last Saturday by his parents and grandparents. Several children of the neighborhood of his age and several relatives were present to wish him well.

The three teachers of the Bryte School were hostesses last week at a Hallowe'en party at the school for the pupils. Hallowe'en games and music were enjoyed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Charles F. Noyes has returned from Seattle, where she visited her sister, Mrs. T. J. Gavin.

Louis Hein, formerly of Washington, has purchased three lots in Bryte and will occupy the house on the property as a home.

The highway between Washington and Elkhorn, by way of Bryte, is practically completed. Because of the impassable condition of the detour, the completion of the new road will be a great benefit to automobile travel.

WHO SAID OHIO WAS GOING TO VOTE FOR COX AND DEMOCRACY?

Columbus, Nov. 3.—The noon tabulation on the Ohio Presidential vote showed Senator Harding leading Governor Cox by 258,946 on returns from 5,248 precincts out of 7,145 in the State. The vote was Harding 810,746, Cox 551,800.

Returns from 3676 precincts gave former Governor Willis a lead of 158,368 votes over W. J. Julian, his Democratic opponent for United States Senator. The vote was: Willis, 537,164; Julian, 378,796.

GIANNOTTI HEAVY LOSER TO BANDITS

Last Saturday night Albert Giannotti was held up at his place of business, 701 J street, by two bandits who took from his cash drawer $2,077.60.

Owner of several places of business, Giannotti happened to have this large amount in his register because he had taken the receipts from the other places.

A victim of prohibition which was going to take all crime away, Giannotti feels the loss bitterly through this holdup.

VOTE SHOWN IN WASHINGTON RETURNS SHOULD CONVINCE THE PEOPLE THAT PROHIBITION IS NOT WANTED

By a vote of more than four to one two Washington precincts showed their antipathy last Tuseday to the Harris enforcement act.

Throughout the State, at this writing, it appears that the Harris law has been beaten by about two to one.

It is also evident that Washington, for once in its life time, forgot democracy, voting for Harding by a majority of fifteen.

Peculiarly the prohibition candidate, Watkins, received only five votes, yet a vote of 75 was cast in favor of the Harris law in the two precincts.

The Socialist vote was a good deal stronger than the prohibition vote, there being 13 people who voted for Debs.

SALT WATER RESTRAINING LOCKS TO BE BUILT SOON

[illegible] Federal Government in connection with [illegible] to make an [illegible] for preventing the advance of salt water [illegible] the river.

This matter matured last Saturday when a drilling machine was towed to a point near Freeport by one of the [illegible].

The drilling machine is to be used for soundings so that the locks when constructed may have a solid foundation.

From what could be learned by the Independent it seems there will be two weirs at Freeport, one extending from either bank of the river to nearly the center of the stream or beyond. These weirs will have the effect of preventing the passage up stream of salt water and will also retain the fresh water in the river higher up stream.

It is understood also that similar locks are to be built below Antioch and perhaps at Isleton or Courtland as well as at Elkhorn, Grimes and other points along the river.

Definite information could not be secured for this issue of the paper, but it is evident there will be no delay, for plans and specifications have already been drawn and some men are already at work.

LEWIS WINS FROM BLACK FOR ASSEMBLY FROM YOLO COUNTY

[illegible]—Incomplete returns show Howard Lewis has a majority of [illegible] over his opponent, C. C. Black, of Yolo County, for the Assembly from Yolo County, for the district comprising Yolo, Sutter and Yuba Counties.

Yuba returns give Lewis 1822 and Black 1481; Sutter, Lewis, 1253 and Black 580; Yolo, Lewis 2032 and Black 2215. The small precincts that have not reported will only increase the majority of Lewis.

Wasn't it too bad.

Mrs. Hiram Johnson couldn't vote on election day. A clerical error prevented her.

COAL

Order That Coal NOW!

AND BE PREPARED TO SPEND THIS WINTER'S EVENINGS IN WARMTH AND COMFORT. What is more enjoyable than to sit in a warm room reading the newspaper, while the temperature is at freezing point outside?

We have plenty of your favorite brand of coal now, but the coal miners' strike in England will rapidly decrease American surplus coal stocks and we cannot be assured of getting our orders filled later.

We carry all standard kinds of coal, such as—

ROCK SPRINGS
ROYAL CASTLE GATE
MEXICAN ANTHRACITE
SPRING CANYON
PIONEER FURNACE COAL
And Others

Also WOOD in every form for fuel.

Cold Weather

Is at hand. A well-heated Home is a winter comfort for any family.

Local Scene

Fun run

The Aquatics Foundation of West Sacramento and Mad Cows Racing team present the West Sac Pumpkin Run, at 8 a.m. on Oct. 30 at the city recreation center next to RCHS. There will be 10k and 5k runs and a 5k walk ($30 entry fee). There will also be a kids' 2K "candy burner" event ($20 entry). Fees for the adult events go to $35 from Oct. 3-28 and $40 on the day of the event (cash only at the event). To register, visit www.aquaticsfoundationofwestsacramento.com.

Vets' breakfast

The veterans' organization Amvets Post 9126 will host a breakfast from 9 a.m. to noon on Sun., Oct. 10, at the VFW post, 905 Drever Street. Several menu choices for donations of $5-$7.

Night of wrestling

River City High School will host an evening of "Supreme Pro Wrestling) beginning at 7:30 p.m. on Sat., Oct. 9, to raise funds for school athletics. The event includes a match between the school's "Coach Busta" and "Coach Baker." In some good-natured "trash talking," Coach Bustamante promises to "snap the old man like a wishbone," while his opponent, Coach Baker, says he will "lift (Bustamante) upside down by his ankles, shake out any spare change. . . and toss him into the Kentucky Fried Chicken bucket on Westacre Road." Attend the wrestling match, and find out if either of these things happens. $10 tickets; $5 for kids 13 and under. Visit www.myspace.com/supremeprowrestling.

All alumni:

The leadership class at River City High School has designed alumni shirts to honor RCHS as well as the previous local high schools, Washington High and James Marshall High. The shirts are available for $15 (slightly more for sizes XXL and up). A special deal gets you a T-shirt plus entry to the Homecoming Game for just $20. Call Jamie King at RCHS, 375-7800 ext. 2801, or email him at jking@wusd.k12.ca.us.

Landfill vouchers

Local residents received a voucher for one free load of residential "green" or "wood" waste, or household garbage, in the city's August utility bills. The expiration date on those vouchers has been extended, and the vouchers will be accepted through Oct. 15. One voucher per West Sac household. For information, call 617-4590.

Rummage sale

The James Marshall Parent Participation Nursery School (JMPPNS) is holding a rummage sale on Sat., Oct. 9, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Westacre Road at Merkley Avenue. A portion of the proceeds will go to charities that support children and the community.

Pancakes, for Christmas

A pancake breakfast is planned for Sat., Oct. 30, to support the West Sacramento Christmas Basket Project, which provides holiday food baskets to needy families. The breakfast is planned for 7-10 a.m. at Fire Station 45, on Lake Washington Blvd. near Nugget. $5 tickets. To volunteer or to donate, call Kristin, 307-9633, or Helena, 804-3168.

Local orchestra

The West Sacramento Community Orchestra will play selections from "The Three-Cornered Hat," symphonic dances from "Fiddler on the Roof," compositions by Liszt, and more, in a free concert on Sunday, Oct. 10 at 3 p.m. at the civic center galleria, 1110 West Capitol Avenue. The orchestra also has openings for musicians age 16 and up, of "all levels of proficiency." Call 991-5262 or visit www.westsacramentocommunityorchestra.blogspot.com.

School board candidates

The West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and Soroptimist International of West Sacramento are sponsoring a "candidates' forum" for those running for seats on the local school board this fall. The forum will be held from 7-9 p.m. on Wed., Oct. 6, at 1275 Starboard Drive. The public is welcome.

Harvest Festival

Stonegate Elementary School will bring back its annual Harvest Festival on Oct. 15 from 4-6:30 p.m. There will be games, crafts, vendors and prizes at the on-campus event.

Storytelling

Local storyteller Joyce Ormond will work with 10-12 participants in a clinic on how to tell an interesting story about an event, person or place. The workshop will be held from 10-11 a.m. on Oct. 15 at the West Sacramento Historical Society office next to La Bou. Reserve a space by calling (916) 296-5616.

Open firehouse

The West Sacramento Fire Department plans an open house at Station 45, 2040 Lake Washington Blvd., from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sat., Oct. 9. The public is invited. There will be a jump house and slide, coloring contest, equipment demonstrations, a fire safety house, car seat checks, blood pressure checks, free hot dogs and more.

Rock & roll

The West Sacramento Friends of the Library will break their usual quiet with a "Rock, Rattle and Read" celebration of the county library's 100th birthday on Friday, Oct. 15, from 7-9 p.m. Musical guests will be Mike McGowan and the Mighty Delta Roadmasters. The event of music, dancing & light refreshments will be held at the VFW Hall, 905 Drever Street. $10 for members of the Friends, and $20 for non-members (including a one-year membership. RSVP to Cindy Tuttle, 832-5404, or to WSFOL, PO Box 692, West Sacramento, CA 95691. Include your name, address, phone & email.

Neuropathy

The West Sacramento Peripheral Neuropathy support group meets next from 12:30-2:30 p.m. on Oct. 14 at the West Sacramento library branch's community room, 1212 Merkley Avenue. There will be a video by Dr. Peter Skaff. The public is welcome.

Philanthropy Day

Yolo Community Foundation's Philanthropy Day celebration will be held Tuesday, Nov. 9, from 5:30-7 p.m. at the county administration building, 625 Court St. in Woodland. The public, and particularly the county's nonprofits, are invited to attend. Reserve a space by Oct. 26 for the free event. Email info@yolocf.org or call (530) 312-0539.

RCHS sports stuff?

The River City High School Booster Club is looking for RCHS sports memorabilia. The club plans to remodel and design the party room at Southport's Round Table Pizza restaurant with an RCHS sports theme. If you have River City trophies, signs, shirts, posters, pictures, jerseys or other items to provide, email Larry Langford at larryjlangford@gmail.com, or Irene Eklund at reneske1@gmail.com.

Library's birthday
